The Age of Discovery: Questions and ID's Unit Curve

Directions: To 'buy into' the curve you must complete the following activities; answer the discussion questions, identify the list of key terms and events, and use the 6cs method to analyze the primary sources in each chapter (Parts I, II, & III). Remember a good Identification always includes three items: a good description, place in time, and the items significance. The 6cs method is: Content, Citation, Context, Connections, Communication, and Conclusions from the source.

Graded: These will be checked for completion only, and are to be completed at your discretion.

Scored: 25 points on a 120 point exam
